A group project for our User Experience and User Interface module.

The goal was to create a high-fidelity wireframe design a clinician's web app to assist with managing client data collected using clients' Mood Diary Management apps.

I made the mock-up for the mood page and designed both the personas. Each member of our team made a different mock-up for this webapp.

- People Person
- Scientific
- Empathy
- Good listener
- IT Savvy

Anna has a doctorate in phycological therapy with a specialisation in Marriage and Family therapy. Most of her clients are going through divorces. She has only been working in her field for 5 years and is eager to bring a more modern approach to therapy. She is eager to try out new tech focused approaches to therapy.

She is always looking out for new ways technology can be used to help people and believes that traditional methods don't always find the root of the problem.

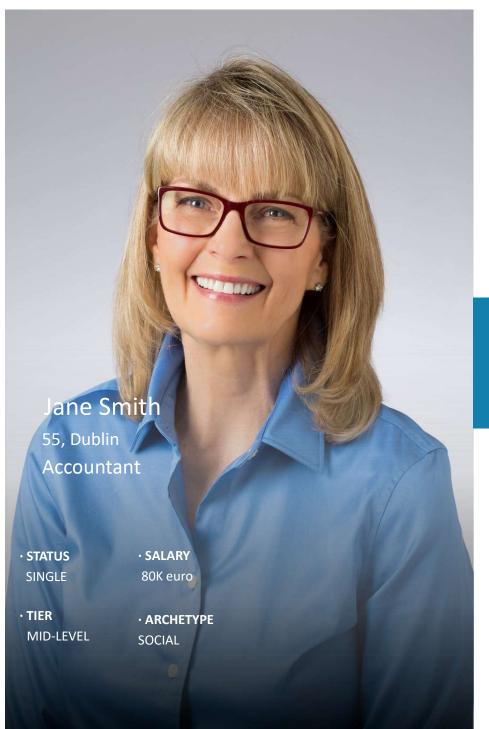

"I want to help people by finding the best way to do so"

- Prove herself as a newly qualified therapist
- Help people struggling with their marriage
- Try new, tech approaches where traditional therapy has failed

Frustrations

- People who don't take her seriously as a therapist
- · People resistant to trying new approaches
- Confusing technology

- Open
- Analytical
- Emotional
- Social Person
- Workaholic

BIO

Jane has recently gone through a divorce after being married for 25 years. She has a hard time adjusting to her new single life and settling into a new routine. She finds it hard to prioritize sleep and exercising these days. She feels lonely as she is used to telling her ex husband about her problems. She started seeing Anna to get support during this difficult time. She hopes by seeing a therapist she'll gain somebody to talk to and find steps she can take to improve her quality of life.

"I want to regain a sense of control around my life"

Goals

- Find somebody to talk to about problems
- Form a better routine with sleep and exercise
- Improve her quality of life

Frustrations

- Feeling lonely
- Not feeling in control
- Being too busy to take time for herself
